

MISS ROSE CLEVELAND

Letters in Connection With

CHICAGO, July 6.—It is expected that Miss Cleveland will arrive in Chicago within the next few weeks to enter upon her duties as ditor of Literary Life. The negotiations which resulted in her undertaking the work were carried on principally by letter. In reply to the first letter in which the subject is broached, Miss Cleveland says: "I quite agree with your idea, and could not fail to have much enthusiasm in the consecration of my energies toward its realization. While, however, my possible embarkation in such an enterprise as the literary management of such a periodical would necessarily involve a sacrifice of other plans and interose to me, I could admit no conflicting or dividing interest to interfere with that work.

" * While I am not without confidence that I might assist the enterprise toward our noble ideal, yet I can promise nothing.

In a subsequent letter, she wrote: "If I can't have this writing until matters are discussed from the realistic side."

In a subsequent letter she wrote: "If I assume the editorial management of your magazine I must have absolute control of its litary department, and I must resign all other work, for I do not agree with your idea that could, while editing the same, still pursue will require to be made in the contents of the program calculated to make it fulfill its high aims, and realize the best of the best western province, and its university hope which I much admire, and all that shall row out of it, the very best and all must be given. I could reserve nothing of surgery in the University of the West, and the expectations that ground would be vain, and

Judge Barrett Sends Her Back to the Asylum. — Mr. Gerry Praises His Agent.

New York, July 18.—Judge Barrett has just received word from the New York Asylum, the Broadway force girl, and sent her back to the Juvenile asylum. Mr. Elbridge Gerry, the president of the Society for the vention of Cruelty to Children, at whose instance she was arrested, appeared in court with a copy of the Castle Garden records showing that the girl was six years old when she came to this country in 1878, and is there-ore now in her fourteenth year. Her parnts had sworn that she was over sixteen, ut the evidence against them was too strong nd, therefore, they failed to secure her re-

Mr. Gerry says that the incarceration of heress all night in the station house was not an act for which the society is to be blamed; that it would happen again in every case where the arrested girl should refuse to go to the society's house of detention, as Theresa did, or where bail should not be offered. He admits that the company of the prisoners at the station house was not good for her; but she says that it was no worse than the obscenity and filth which she encountered daily in her peddling. As to letting her go home to pass the night, as has been suggested should have been done, he asserts that her parents had no fixed abode, and that she would have been spirited away out of the reach of the authorities and placed again in the same occupation. He unqualifiedly sustains and raises the course of the agent of the society who arrested Theresa.

Wholesale Poisoning.

WICHITA, Kan., July 6. —A wholesale poi-ning is reported from Anthony, Harper county. The town was crowded with people to celebrate the Fourth of July. The speaker of the day had just begun his address when He was soon followed by others. The celebration was abandoned. Wagons were made ambulances, and barns, outhouses and streets were searched for the sick and suffering.

Hospitals were improvised and all the physicians of the town endeavored to allay the pain of the sufferers. It was soon found that they had been poisoned by drinking lemonade made with tartar emetic. At one time over

At one time over sixty lay writhing with pain, and many of their lives were despaired of. All, however, are now out of danger, with the exception of a widow named Northrop, who, it is thought, cannot survive. Two of the bootas continued to sell the poisonous stuff until the sheriff forced it out. Every effort will be made to discover the party upon whom the blame rests and bring him to punishment.

Brutally Assaulted.
CINCINNATI, July 6.—As John Nolan was returning to his home at Newport at a late hour last evening, from a meeting of the Knights of St. John, he was approached by a curly fellow, at this end of the Newport bridge, who demanded money of him for a night's lodging. Nolan told him that he had money, whereupon the man knocked him down and brutally kicked him several times. An eye witness of the affair called for help, and Officers Dunlap and Gwynn succeeded in capturing the ruffian. He was taken to Hammond police station and registered as John Carlisle. He is known to the police as a very hard character, and has been arrested several times for robbery.

Expected Indian Outbreaks.
TOMBSTONE, Ariz., July 6.—Word has been received here that a telegram had been received at Fort Huachuca from Gen. Miles to signal to Antelope Springs, Swissheims and stein's Park, that hostile Apaches are returning to Arizona and ordering every water hole carefully guarded, and couriers to notify settlers generally. It is believed the ostiles are heading for the dragoons, where they intend to make a stand. They have already reached Sulphur Springs valley. Davis, well known rancher, has arrived in this city and stated he came across four dead

Premature Discharge of a Cannon.
BLOOMVILLE, O., July 6.—During the firing of a solute, James McMangle and James Dean were horribly mutilated and burned by the premature discharge of a cannon. Both lost an eye and McMangle had his arm badly

Jumped From the Third Story Window.
BALTIMORE, July 6.—R. E. Weber, of

Pittsburg, who has been undergoing treatment in the Maryland University hospital for several days past, jumped from a third story window of the building and dashed himself upon the cobble stones.

Thus Ashland Independent that has been straddling the political fence for a long while, fell off on the Republican side last week, and is now a red-hot advocate of the g. o. p.

The telephone investigation didn't pan out to suit the New York Sun, and other papers that have been hounding Attorney General Garland. The report of the committee states that no Government official was guilty of any wrong in the matter under investigation.

The railroad proposition is not a scheme to swindle the city out of any money. It is only a plan to raise cash with which to pay for the right of way at once. Cash must be had for this purpose. The county subscription is not available—it is not to be paid until the road is completed. Where is the money to come from, if the city does not lend her credit to the guarantors? They shouldn't be asked to go down into their own pockets for the cash to further a public enterprise.

During the first six months of this year, more railroads were constructed in this country than ever before for a like period of time. The Louisville Times says: "There is no better test of prosperity than this. Capital is the most ardent toward in the world, and when it engages in the extending of railroads and the building of new lines, it is an evidence that confidence has returned, and prosperity always follows confidence. It should be remembered in this connection that we have a Democratic administration at Washington."

SAYS THE CINCINNATI TELEGRAM: For many years there has been only one line of railroad between Washington and New York. Of course the travel is immense. On the road there are the cities of Washington, Baltimore, Wilmington, Philadelphia, Trenton, Newark, Jersey City, Brooklyn and New York. The B. & O. people are trying to get an opportunity to build a new line. The Pennsylvania Central people oppose the building of a new line; declare as does General Hickenlooper and the Commercial Gazette about a new gas company, that it is only being built to blackmail the old company.

The road, like our new gas works, is going to be built all the same. Such blackmail should be cultivated. It will benefit the traveling public millions of dollars each year, and the new gas works will benefit the people of Cincinnati a million a year. Gas will be furnished for fifty cents a thousand, and then there is money in it.

No Delay.

The recent vote in the county and the city abundantly justifies the action of the council last Thursday night. The Citizens' Committee claim that if the subscription of the Central people opposes the building of a new line, the city must advance the money for the rights of way at once and secure immediate completion of the road. With prompt action in the premises the great enterprise will be completed they say within eight months from to-day. The wisecracks who affect to see danger and defects in the proposition, ought to know, if they have any business capacity or experience at all, that in an enterprise of this sort, nothing is more dangerous than delay. But, very curiously, men who have had their fingers burnt by the bylaws of the Central people, and who are notoriously devoted to the advancement of their own selfish interests, are invariably prominent as croakers and obstructives when any legitimate and solid enterprise is to be pushed for the public good. An enlightened selfishness would show them that their true interests and that of their poorer neighbors are the same.

Which?

The opposition to the proposal that the city should advance the amount of money necessary to secure the right of way for the Southside road, comes chiefly from two classes of persons—those who are honestly ignorant of the intent and details of the proposition, and those who wilfully misunderstand and pervert its terms. A word of explanation almost invariably satisfies the former; whilst the latter as a general rule will be satisfied with nothing less than with the failure of a great enterprise. The conduct of of this latter class is singularly in contrast with that of the gentlemen who came forward at a critical moment in the history of this enterprise, and assumed the responsibilities of guarantors until the community at large could legally act. It was an extraordinary evidence of public spirit and although their signatures do not make their contract bankable paper upon which funds can be raised, the guarantee satisfied Mr. Huntington that he could safely proceed with his work and gave our people an opportunity to place their city, at a very insignificant expense, upon the greatest trans-continental railway of modern times. Which of these classes, fellow-citizens, is the more worthy of your confidence and respect?

A Woman Confesses a Murder. RALEIGH, N. C., July 6.—A young woman named Morrison Madison, of Virginia, was some time ago found dead in Buncombe county, in this state. The manner of his death has since remained a mystery, but it was supposed that he had committed suicide. Yesterday a man and a woman, charged with the murder, were arrested in Buncombe and bound over for trial. The woman volunteered evidence against the man. She says she shot Madison and left the pistol at his side to suggest the idea of suicide. The story is plausible and may clear up the mystery. The parties were placed in jail at Asheville.

Celebrating the Fourth. JAMESBORO, N. Y., July 6.—While the guests of the Great Lakes were at Lakewood at dinner, a drunken man named Mahoney, jumped into the dining room from the street, and, shouting that he was the hero man in America and was celebrating the Fourth of July. During the fight that followed one lady fainted and a little girl was rendered unconscious by the blows which were being dealt. It took the combined efforts of four of the porters to clear the room, Mahoney being knocked unconscious.

Mystery Solved. CINCINNATI, July 6.—Coroner Carrick held an inquest on the body Sophia Pfeffer, the young woman who was supposed to have been murdered in the river. The finding of the coroner is that she came to her death from suicide by drowning.

ARREST OF A GIRL GRADUATE.

Mrs. McManus Taken to the Police Station After Her Commencement Exercises.

FAIR RIVER, July 4.—Miss Kate Frances McManus, a graduate of the high school, was arrested upon a charge of assault upon Peter McManus, a senior in a fashionable church, at the conclusion of the graduating exercises. The affair produced a great sensation, as both persons are prominently known here.

McManus is keeping the company of a fashionable Newport society girl, the sister of Miss McManus. The girl's relatives object to his associating with her. The young man was not to be bullied, and, instead of relinishing his acquaintance, became more ardent in his attentions to her.

One night about three weeks ago McManus and Kate McManus met in the street and a serious quarrel occurred, during which the young man lost a cane and Miss Kate had her clothing torn. On Wednesday last a warrant was sworn out for the girl's arrest, but McManus did not wish to have it served until the graduation services had begun.

The chief of police declined to serve it during the exercises on McManus' desire, and the young woman was not taken into custody until the exercises were finished, when she was escorted to the police station. The girl, who had preferred a charge for assault against McManus, and he was arrested. The case will be tried to-morrow.

A Spanish Princess' Kioskment.

Another of the stories in Princess Josefa, who contracted a most romantic marriage with the Cuban poet and statesman, Gull y Renta. The latter, who died about three months ago, was favorably known in the United States as having been a great patriot in favor of the Cortes abolishing all duties on American goods. He was a kind of Spanish Colburn. When quite a young man he became attached to a young lady belonging to one of the principal families of Cuba. His love was returned, but the father refused to encourage the suit and contemptuously told him that he was of far too low origin to marry the daughter of a nobleman. Enraged, Gull y Renta exclaimed that he would show people who he was by wedding a princess. Crossing the ocean, he arrived at Madrid, and soon made a name for himself there as poet and author. Several poems which he dedicated to Princess Josefa, sufficed to turn her head completely. They became enamored of one another and fled together.

The royal family were thunderstruck. The scandal was rendered doubly great by the fact of Gull y Renta being a most pronounced Radical. The government tried unsuccessfully to get the marriage invalidated by the pope, but the people were delighted therewith. Sentences of exile were pronounced against them, but after while the good nature for which Queen Isabella is notorious prevailed, and the couple returned to Spain with honor, the queen receiving the pair as her brother-in-law. He was most charming man and a distinguished author, while his speeches in the senate and the cortes are of historic interest. The royal family at no time had reason to regret the marriage, and his three sons are perhaps the most popular princes in Spain. The first-placed young man in Madrid—New York World.

After Thirty-one Hours the Jury Returns a Verdict of Guilty.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 4.—The jury in the trial of the Anarchists Hirth, Simon and Paine, after being out for thirty-one hours returned with a verdict of guilty. The first ballot was seven for conviction and three for acquittal. The second ballot was seven for conviction and five for acquittal, the two blanks voting with the latter. Both are saloon keepers. One, formerly an Anarchist, had spent in prison for a year for the knowledge of the district attorney, and he voted for twenty-four hours for acquittal, but finally came over. The punishment in their case may be either $200 fine or up to one year imprisonment.

They were convicted for making seditious speeches and for distributing arms and ammunition among members of the "Grape." Frank Hirth was formerly of Detroit and Chicago, in which latter city he edited at one time a Socialist paper. He is a sign-maker by trade. Chas. Simon is a barber, and Anton Paine is a fisher by trade. The jury returned their verdict at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The verdict was received with applause. Judge Sloan will leave to-morrow for Washington, and return July 19th for duty. Chicagoans will remember the case which originated with recent labor troubles.

To Fight the Western Blizzard.

Some young and enterprising dry goods men of New York have pooled their financial resources, and have invested their savings in a steam snow-shovel company, whose object is to fight the western blizzard or any other kind of a storm which covers railroad tracks with snow. The machine, which costs to lease costs $15,000 and weighs forty tons. It rests on a heavy truck and is propelled by locomotives. A ten-foot square iron case, with open mouth, projects from the front end. In this are set four steel knives, which cut the hardest snow to pieces, and at the same time throw it back into clouds which, by their rotary movement, hurl it 300 feet away.—Chicago Herald.

Sell for Our National Flower.

A man by the name of Clark, on Capitol hill, Washington, has gone to a good deal of trouble for a little publicity, and deserves all he can get. It occurred to him that it would be a good idea to mix the soil of all the states and territories in the Capitol park, and about a year ago he wrote to postmasters and other officials from Maine to Arizona. In reply he received a package of earth, until his collection was completed. Then, on Washington's birthday, he mixed the soil up in a box and dumped it in a corner, where, sentiment decrees, our national flower, if we ever have any, ought to be sown.—Washington Letter.

The Lake Shore Switchmen.

CHICAGO, July 6.—The Lake Shore switchmen's strike threatens to develop into a more serious case of affairs than at first appeared. It is well known that the packing house employes are in strong sympathy with the switchmen, and many now stand the probability that the men will refuse to handle the Lake Shore freight on Tuesday next. The outlook for the railway company, as far as the Chicago end is concerned, is not very bright. It is a gloomy one, and the probability of serious trouble in that quarter is quite strong.

Double Drowning.

New York, July 6.—Fritz Shaffer, Louis Balmer and Adolph Schaefer, three young Germans, were rowing on the North river. The boat upset and Shaffer was drowned. Another young man, whose name was not given, was capsized, and Peter Fisher, twenty-five years old, was drowned.

AFTER THE ELECTIONS.

THE RESULT NOT ENCOURAGING TO MR. GLADSTONE.

The Liberal Party Gains Five Seats and Lose Six—A Very Light Vote Cast—The Gains of London Not Affected by the Elections—Our American Minister.

LONDON, July 6.—The results of the pollings do not encourage hopes of Gladstone's majority. Of the unopposed returns, of which a great majority are Conservative, seventy-three members are returned. The Gladstonians counted on considerable gains. They have gained five seats and lost six. The gains, with the exception of Carlisle, are due to the transfer of the Irish vote in constituencies where the Irish are numerous—in Manchester, Liverpool, and Leeds; but in Salford, where the Irish vote is also heavy, the Conservative gain two. The Liberals expected to lose Hereford and Hastings, but not Portsmouth and South Bristol, and still less Salford.

Mr. Cairns's victory at Barrow is a brilliant one. There was no man the Gladstonians tried so hard to defeat. He now pulls more votes than when the Liberal caucus supported him, his actual majority having increased nearly one hundred.

Leeds rejects Mr. Kitson, the local schandhorst and one of Mr. Gladstone's favorites, whose return was thought certain, and re-elects Sir Lyon Playfair by a diminished vote. Herbert Gladstone's supporters in the same city are a thousand less than last year, his weak. They opposed also losing a thousand. Sir Thomas Brassey, who failed to find in Liverpool the seat for which he abandoned Hastings, will be succeeded by a peerage.

Lord Randolph Churchill's manifesto has not hindered his election by any increased majority in Paddington. Mr. Gladstone's election for Leith is amazing. When no local candidate could be found to oppose the late Unionist member, Mr. Gladstone telegraphed, insisting on a nomination which was made at the moment. Mr. Jack, a feeble person theopos retired. The incident supplies Mr. Gladstone's opponents in Edinburgh and London with the text for a new discourse on the temper.

The total of opposed and unopposed returns give 117 Conservatives and Unionists, and 44 Gladstonians. This apparent preponderance of the former is only momentary and is due to the great number of uncontested Tory seats. Perhaps the most remarkable feature of the election is the smallness of the vote. Almost everywhere the total vote shows a decrease from last year, which hardly looks as if the constituencies took a passionate interest in the question of home rule. The Ministerial loss more than the Conservative, while the importance of the Irish vote, if one may judge from the recent by-elections, has been overrated. The feeling altogether among Liberals as the returns come in, was one of despondency.

Since Mr. Gladstone's return to Hawarden he has flooded the constituencies with letters and telegrams in behalf of his own candidates. His energy and versatility are admirable, but he clears up no doubtful points and fails to simplify the issues. Mr. Bright, whose weighty speech in Birmingham on Tuesday produced a deep impression, charged Mr. Gladstone with having concealed his thoughts last November, and with concealing now his real purpose for the election in the land bill. Mr. Gladstone replies that the letter leaves the land purchase question as much in obscurity as ever. Mr. Chamberlain, who, like Mr. Bright, was returned unopposed, referred to Mr. Gladstone's appeal to trust the people, and said the people were not being trusted; they are being tricked, since no man can say what is the policy of the government. Mr. Gladstone, so far from taking the people into his confidence, has not even taken his own colleagues into his confidence. They give conflicting accounts of his reasoning and intention on vital points.

A dramatic scene occurred at the end of Mr. Chamberlain's very powerful speech. He appealed to the pride and patriotism of Englishmen, who had confronted the world in arms. "Then is courage and courage is asked. 'Are you going to quell before the threats of conspirators and rebels, before the dagger of the assassin?'"

This question the vast audience answered by raising in a body with cries of "never," and prolonged cheering.

And this ever deepening conflict the gray city of London continues to decline; but when there has been a week during which the queen and royalties of every grade have been more busy with political functions than with the Prince of Wales began on Sunday with luncheon at Mrs. Sand's, and heard Mrs. Potter, an American, recite, whose he much applauded.

A decision of the court of appeal finally closes the door of the divorce court to Sir Charles Diller as co-defendant in the Crawford case. He cannot appear by counsel, but may appear as a witness if the Queen's Proctor chooses to summon him. The argument that the exclusion is not great hardship to Sir Charles Diller was pressed in the court. The judges held that every opportunity had been given to him in the first trial and it was only his own fault if he failed to submit himself for cross-examination.

The American minister and Mrs. Phelps have issued invitations for a reception on Monday afternoon, in celebration of the 4th of July. The former practice of inviting everybody by a notice in the newspapers was found to occasion much inconvenience. Invitations are now sent to all Americans who have called at the legation.

The Panama Canal Lottery.

PARIS, July 6.—The commission appointed by M. De Freycinet to investigate the Panama canal lottery scheme said they were ready to defend the lottery bill from the belated of parliament if necessary. They announced that the canal would be an international advantage. It was preferable that a French company should accomplish the work. They consider also that it is their duty to support an enterprise which the republic has called at the legation.

Timothy Holny's Speech.

LONDON, July 6.—Timothy Holny, in a speech at Newry, said that union had ever been a curse and a blight. "But now," he said, "divided by Gladstone, we are going to get rid of it forever."

New York, July 6.—The Star publishes a lengthy article proposing union of New York city and its suburbs under one municipal government. It says the phenomenal commercial growth demands the annexation under which the population of New York city would be three million. It is proposed to take in Brooklyn, Long Island, city, Astoria, East New York, New Lots, all of Kings and Richmond counties, and part of Westchester and Queens counties.

Happiness

results from that true contentment which indicates perfect health of body and mind. You may possess it, if you will purify and invigorate your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. E. M. Howard, New York, N. H., writes: "I suffered for years with Scrofulous humors. After using two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I great relief. It has entirely restored me to health." James French, Atchison, Kans., writes: "To all persons suffering from Liver Complaint, I would strongly recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with a disease of the liver for nearly two years, when a friend advised me to take this medicine. It gave prompt relief, and has cured me." Mrs. H. M. Kilder, 41 Dwight st., Boston, Mass., writes: "For several years I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my family. I never feel so well, even without it. As a liver medicine and general purifier of the blood, it has no equal." Mrs. A. B. Allen, Winterport, Va., writes: "My youngest child, two years of age, was taken with Bowel Complaint, which we could not cure. We tried many remedies, but he continued to grow worse, and finally became so reduced in flesh that we could only move him upon a pillow. It was suggested by one of the doctors that Scrofula might be the cause of the trouble. We procured a bottle of and commenced giving it to him. It surely worked wonders, for, in a short time, he was completely cured."

Found

USE Vegetabile MALTBY, BENTLEY & CO.,

It is a medicinal preparation, and, at the same time, an elegant and cleanly toilet article. Its action upon the scalp is healthful. It removes the dandruff, causes the hair, and causes thin, dry hair to become thick, soft, and vigorous. It restores the color of youth to locks which have become faded with age or disease; and restores the itching, caused by humors of the scalp. Dr. George Gray, Nashua, N. H., writes: "It gives me pleasure to testify to the wonderful effects produced by Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, as observed by me in very many cases. It WILL CERTAINLY RESTORE THE HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR. It cleanses the head of dandruff, and leaves the hair soft, glossy, and beautiful." F. T. Sandelin, 1010 Spruce st., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "After unavailing trying a number of preparations to prevent my hair from falling out, and, realizing that I was fast becoming bald, I tried, as a last resort, Hall's Hair Renewer. I have used only four bottles of the Renewer, and am perfectly satisfied that it is the best preparation in the market for checking the falling out of hair, invigorating the hair roots, and promoting a new growth."

Buckingham's Dye

FOR THE WHISKERS

commends itself to all who have occasion to use a dye for the beard or mustache. It will change gray, faded, or sandy whiskers, to a beautiful brown or black, as desired. The colors produced are natural and lasting. It cannot be washed off, contains no destructive ingredients, is cheap, safe, convenient to use, and effectual.
